In Memoriam

EULOGY

This we can state of him, none carried hate of him.
None ever left him with pain in his heart.
This can be said of him; none lived in dread of him.
He scoffed at nobody just to be smart.

None in vulgarity spoke in disparity,
Calling him names that we commonly hear.
Nobody jeered at him! Nobody sneered at him.
No one was worse off for having him near.

Brave was the heart of him; kindness a part of him,
True to his faith and his fellows he stayed;
None could recall of him, traits that were small of him.
None had been hurt by the blunders he made.

This we can tell of him, all men thought well of him.
Home goes his spirit now bearing no stain.
This we can say of him over the clay of him,
God will be proud to receive him again.

Dedication to the School

"'Twas in the year of twenty-three,
Twenty-six tiny babies were we.
And in that year a building grew,
It was the schoolhouse of Vanlue.

By twenty-nine the school had grown,
And into the first grade we had flown.
The first year was one of trials and correction,
Under the guiding hand of Miss Gillette's direction.

In "35" we were half way through,
And all the while the school grew.
By "37" we ended our grade school career,
Learning to fight and spread good cheer.

As we grew up the school grew too,
And by "41" we were through.
The school continues to go on its way,
Establishing knowledge and getting no pay.

Now as we leave and seek our fame,
We dedicate this book in the Vanlue name.
We are doing what no other class can do.
And now we shall say to Vanlue High "Adieu."

III THE PASSENGERS OF FLIGHT "41" IN ACTION

Sons of Old Vanlue High

March away to victory for Vanlue
Our gallant sons must win the fight,
Do or die must be our cry for Vanlue,
We'll battle hard to gain the right.
When at last, our day is past at Vanlue
And we shall go on our lonely way,
We shall strive with hand and heart dear Vanlue
In gratitude our debt to thee to pay.

All hail to thee, our Alma Mater!
All hail to thee, our Alma Mater!
All hail! Vanlue!
All hail! Vanlue!
All hail to thee our dear old Vanlue High

(CHORUS)

Sons of old Vanlue High, dear Vanlue High, "Arise"!
Protect your colors true, unfurl them to the skies
Rah! Rah! Rah!
We'll be her loyal sons, faithful and true
We'll fight with might, to gain the right for old Vanlue.

MY TRUST

They come to me,
This living clay,
With joy and hope and love,
Unblighted by the cynic's doubt,
Untouched by grief and care.
With eager faces turned to mine
They seek my help; and there
Mute before such utter trust
I bow my head in silent prayer.

H. E. Hinkle—Principal

"Lord, help me make this living
clay
Into works of art supreme—
Being wrought by patient toil
As vital as the humble soil,
And yet, in part, for beauty made.
Let me not my trust betray
As with this plastic mass from day to day
I mold pulsing souls,
And send them on life's complex
way."

Class History

We have now reached the end of our school career. Twelve years of instruction which has helped us reach this goal. The first eight years of school were long and uneventful and at times very dull. The four years that we have been in high school seem almost too short but they are ones that we will always remember.

In 1937 we started our high school career as forty-eight shy and rather inexperienced Freshmen. Mr. George Tuttle being our guide and counselor. Our class officers were: President, Doris Hendricks; Vice President, Ruth Ellen Dulgar; Secretary-Treasurer, Robert Van Atta; Reporter, Ruth Marie Cupp.

The next year we became Sophomores, being one step nearer to our goal. Our class of thirty-seven members elected Reva Thompson, as President; Virginia Shuck, Vice President; and Ruth Marie Cupp, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Tuttle was our sponsor.

In the fall of '39 we entered our Junior Year with thirty members. This year we felt very dignified for we chose our class rings and then we presented our class play, "Gay", which was a real success. Our class officers were: President, Gerald Cotter; Vice President, Virginia Shuck; Secretary, Ruth Dulgar; Treasurer, Belva Crawford; and Reporter, Pauline Kauffman. In the spring we gave the Seniors a real "send off" by being their hosts at the annual Junior and Senior banquet. Miss Ethel Baum was our adviser.

In the fall of '40 we entered our Senior year. With twenty-eight members answering the call "to continue". This was the climax of our school career and we all enjoyed our Senior year the best of all. During the year, Paul Rice, our all-around athlete, Darrold England, and Jean Helfer left us. A highlight of our Senior year was our class play, "Pigtails", which was acclaimed a great success. Our high school careers were ended with the Commencement on May 19. Our Senior class officers were: President, Helen Beck; Vice President, Cosmo Plotts; Secretary, Dortha Parrish; Treasurer, Belva Crawford; and Reporter, Juanita Hendricks. Mr. Hinkle was our advisor.

Class Prophecy

The other day as I sat thinking, my thoughts took me to what my classmates would be doing twenty years hence. As it has always been my ambition to be an aviator, I climbed into my little plane and started on my journey to find my classmates in that new era.

As I landed at Wrights' Field at Dayton, I saw none other than John Cole who was at this time the manager of the field. Another plane landed at the field, and out stepped Marjorie Thomas, head Stewardess. While talking with Miss Thomas I learned that among her passengers were Belva Crawford and Bebe Thomas who were employed as stenographers in Chicago. After visiting there a few hours I decided to be on my way.

While seated in my plane I turned on the radio and whom do you suppose I heard. The program was being announced by Lawrence Bright and he introduced the world's greatest opera singer, Juanita Hile. At the close of the program I heard one of the outstanding woman commentators, Ruth Ellen Dulgar, reporting current news flashes.

I made my next stop at Findlay, Ohio. Here I found Margaret Phillips as Editor of a Findlay paper. Bradie Marshall was employed as cartoonist for the same paper.

I left the paper office and proceeded down the streets of Findlay. As I was walking along I came upon Mrs. Dale Leichty, the former Miss Doris Hendricks. I asked her concerning several of my classmates. She informed me that Mrs. Lynn Stillberger, the former Miss Reva Thompson, was a resident of Findlay and that Dortha Parish was employed at office work in Indiana.

Again I entered my airplane, and journeyed to my home town Vanlue. It was one of the greatest industrial centers of the world. Here I found Cosmo Plotts as President of Vanlue University. While talking with Cosmo, in walked Robert King, head of the Vocational Agriculture Department. As I was leaving I met John Loudenslager, Director of Physical Education there. John informed me that a number of my classmates were employed at the university. They were Donna Thomas, Florence Fry, and Luella Walter who were working in the dormitories. Virginia Shuck was employed as Commercial teacher while Pauline Kauffman was teaching Home Economics.

After leaving the college and strolling down the Main street of Vanlue I met Mrs. Donnell Hendricks, the former Miss Ruth Cupp. She told me that Robert Shuck owned a prosperous farm south of town. I also found out that Mrs. John Gill, the former Miss Helen Beck was living in Illinois where he husband was head of the Air Forces. Mrs. Virgil Keiffer, the former Miss Betty Beck resided at Fostoria where her husband was employed.

After having seen all my classmates it made me a little homesick for my good old school days but I ascended into my plane and was on my way.

Class Poem

'Twas in the year of twenty-nine,
Twenty-eight students stood in a line.
Small and frightened children were we,
It was our first year in school you see.

The years flew by and at last,
We ended a year in the eighth grade class.
The next year we were "freshies" green,
So afraid that we'd be seen.

When Juniors we presented" Gay",
To take us further on our way.
And "Pigtails" in our Senior year,
Ended our struggle for a goal so dear.

The years have flown quick and fast,
And now as we glance into our past,
We wish to thank you everyone,
For education, hope and fun.

Underclassmen we say to you,
Always be courteous, kind and true.
Be loyal, faithful and helpful too,
Serve to your best for old VANLUE.

Helen Beck

"Three Down and One to Go"

Twenty-eight Juniors climbed into the second-class ship this year,
With great big grins from ear to ear;
Pilot Mr. Monson sat at the front,
To watch for all unpleasing bumps.

Co-pilot Mary Ellen Redick did her best,
To help Pilot Monson and all the rest.
Weather-man Clair Oman gave this shout,
"We're in for a storm, but don't bail out!"

Stewardess Ardeth Thomas wrote in a book
All of the doings in every corner and nook,
Radio Operator Nana Bechtel paid all the bills,
When the ship was damaged among the hills.

Reva McKee made all their reports
She recorded all their great doings and the sort,
The ships colors were red and white
You never have seen such a beautiful sight.

"I came, I saw, I conquered", was painted on the wings
And to that motto the class will always cling.
Beautiful Red Roses adorned the ship
To make the passengers have a more pleasing trip.

Several class parties were enjoyed throughout the year,
All the students attending with plenty of cheer.
A play, "Sulphur and Molasses" was given in December,
And in January a Chicken Supper we'll all remember.

"Half-way Through"

The third-class clipper wasn't so full
With twenty-one Sophomores in its hull
Pilot Miss Ketzenberger worked the gears,
To steer the class through this year.

Co-pilot Paul George with great ability
Steered the ship to its greatest facility;
Weatherman Calvin Casteel gave this reply
"The weather's clear, let's begin to fly".

Stewardess Sara Ellen Cole helped the class,
She described the scenes as they passed;
Radio Operator Ina Ruth Miller was on her toes,
To take dots and dashes; she knew all the codes.

Crimson and gold colors were painted on the ship
With pink carnations for decorations from tip to tip;
"A live wire never gets stepped on", helped them a lot,
It was painted in gold on the ship's top.

One of our students who was great,
Passed beyond the golden gates,
We'll always think of him today and tomorrow,
The one who left us with great sorrow.

JUNIOR MARSHALL

Like a lonely swallow
He sails the chart unknown,
And ever he is winging
To his other home.

"Wearers of the Green"

Twenty-eight Freshmen in all
Boarded the Fourth-class clipper in the fall,
Mr. Collins was their great Pilot

He taught the class to be quiet.
Co-pilot Jane Thomas was at his side
She helped the passengers have a pleasing ride,
Weather man Nathalie Coldren was standing by
To give bad weather reports from the sky.

Stewardess Iola Crawford did her bit
To take care of the passengers on the ship.
Radio Operator Paul Moser did an awful lot,
He kept the plane from hitting mountains and rocks.

The ship was decorated Green and White
And Lily of the Valley helped make it a beautiful sight;
Their motto is "Work with the Will"
Their saying that they will fulfill.

Our School Band

With instruments bright and shiny and new
Horns and drums and trumpets, too,
We started the band.

We blew and blew with all our might
We honked and horned 'til our throats were tight;
We started the band.

Mr. Huffman taught us how to blow
He's our instructor, don't you know.
We started the band.

Only squeaks and squawks came at first
But we blew and blew 'til we thought we'd burst.
We started the band.

Notes came next, we learned them fast,
The hardest part we learned last.
We started the band.

We played at chapels, games, and all
We'll do better in the fall.
We started the band.

We're better now, I can say
'Cause we work harder every day.
We started the band.

The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs were quite active during the year. Under the able direction of the music instructor, Mr. Stanley Huffman, the groups progressed very nicely. At Christmas, they combined to present a Christmas cantata, "The Shepherds' Christmas". In March both groups sang at the Tri-School Musicale at Vanlue, and the latter part of March they again as a body presented their annual operetta, this year being "Top O' The World".

"Christmas for Others"

Popcorn balls and cranberries,
English walnuts and fairies
Dancing 'round a tree
Were so colorful to see.

And a little sick boy, too,
Whose own pleasures were so few
Hungry little birdies fed
And thus many pleasures spread.

Silver stars upon the tree
Blinked and twinkled merrily
From the Christmas tree so green
As they gazed on the happy scene.

Little children sang with cheer
And watched for Santa's reindeer.
Santa came with great joys
And spread his cheer to girls and boys.

Twice a month they published papers,
To tell of student activities and capers,
Each edition showed a progress,
And on perfection was put more stress.
A better paper in years to come,
Better than what they have already done.

"Pigtails"

Twelve actors were in "Pigtails" cast
They represented the Senior Class
The play brought great peals of laughter
With Gay Brooks as the main actor.

She wears her hair so she looks like a freak
The most terrible words you should hear her speak
Norma and Kenyon helped the story
But in the end "Pigtails" won all the glory.

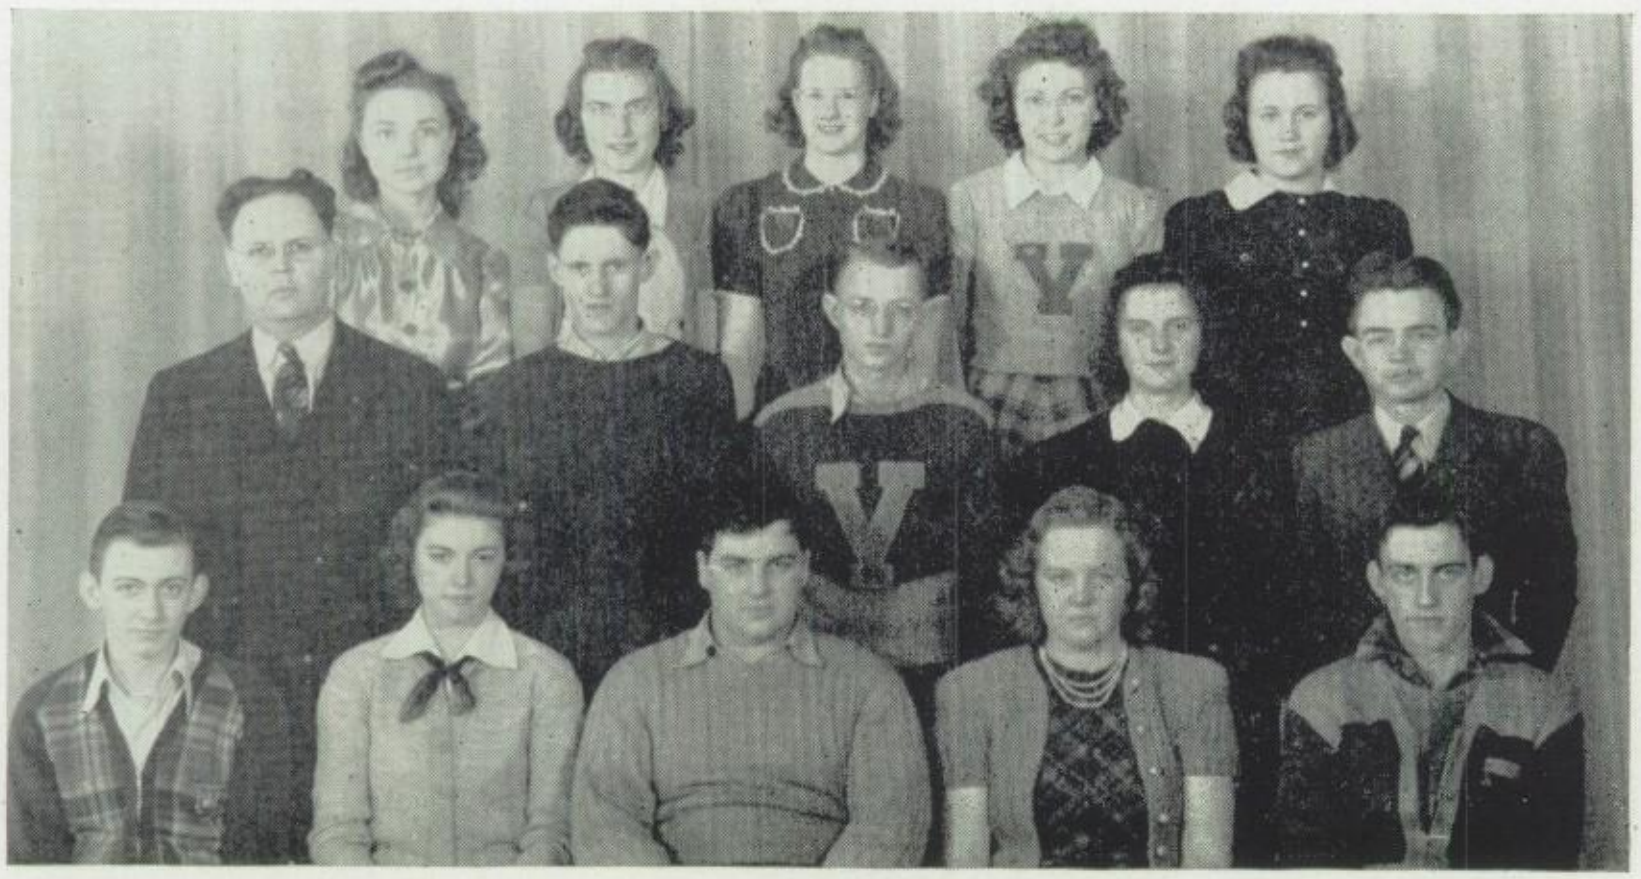
After they all had their say
They liked "Pigtails" better every day
The story gets into an awful mess
But everything works out for the best.

"Sulphur and Molasses"

The Juniors like all other classes,
Gave a play, "Sulphur and Molasses".
Ned Albert was the author,
A better play was never offered.
Under Messrs. Collins' and Monson's direction,
The Juniors performed to great perfection.

On November twenty-nine,
The play was started right on time.
With fourteen Juniors taking part,
They entered the spirit of the play with all their hearts.
It concerned the Fairweather's and the medical profession,
People were relieved under "Doc" Fairweather's direction.

Dr. Benson tangled the plot,
Which gave interest to a lot.
Jim Fairweather came on the scene,
To brighten the plot and make it a scream.
Other characters made it fun,
We hope they give another one.



First Row: Raymond Tong, (Archer Turner); Donnabel Shuck, (Janice Morgan); Lane Dyer, (Dr. Lance Fairweather); Donnabelle Shull, (Mrs. Fairweather 'Meg'); Jack Dean, (Dr. Edmund Fairweather).

F. H. A. and F. F. A.

The F.H.A. was quite active during the year. They served a banquet to the Future Farmers of two counties to help make money for their trip. The club also purchased pins for those who have attained degrees. In March the girls held a bake sale at Upper Sandusky and Vanlue in order to further defray the expenses for their summer trip.

The F F.A. in order to finance their trip for the coming summer, collected and sold junk and oiled harness. In March both the F.H.A. and F.F.A. held their annual pancake supper and later in the spring banqueted their parents. The F.F.A. boys again won the county pest hunt and the number of points they secured exceeded the number that was the state record last year.

F. F. A.
First Row: Mr. Monson, R. Robinette, C. Reed, T. Roller, C. Oman, B. Ward, J. Loulenslager, S. Shuck.
Second Row: D. Hendricks, B. Marshall, G. Miller, R. King, L. Helfre, T. Cole, R. Tong, J. Roberts, J. Cole.

"Hobgoblin House"

Just for a change two groups decided,
To give a mystery play with everyone invited.
The two groups, you see, are very outstanding,
They teach the girls home making, and the boys farm handling.
On October twenty-fifth the auditorium was crowded,
To witness a play that with mystery was shrouded.

Did you ever hear of a headless phantom?
Well, this play had one and it surely did fan' em.
The action took place on a stormy night,
The living room of "Hobgoblin House" was filled with fright.
At nine in the evening the action began,
Darius Krupp was a sinister old man.

Ten other characters furthered the plot,
With comedy added; it pleased a lot.
For just a beginning the best was given,
By this production the F. H. A. and the F. F. A. have risen.
Just in closing we wish to express,
In plays they will always give us the best.

Boy's Basketball Squad

With the packing away of the football togs—the boys started digging out their basketball outfits and twenty boys were selected to compose the Vanlue "Troop". Though they didn't have an outstanding year as far as scores are concerned those up-and-coming graduates have proven that in a couple of years time they can boast an all-County Champ team. Lettermen around which Mr. Hinkle, our very able mentor, built his basketball squad were: John Loudenslager, John Cole, Robert Shuck, and Jack Dean.

PLAYING SAFE

A carpenter, sent to carry out some repairs, entered the apartment of the lady of the house with his apprentice.

"Mary", the woman called to her maid, "see that my jewel case is locked at once!"

The carpenter understood. He removed his watch and chain from his waistcoat with a significant air and gave them to his assistant.

"John", he said, "take these back to the shop. It seems this house isn't safe."

POOR WILL!

A sergeant was drilling a squad in the use of the rifle. All went smoothly until blank cartridges were distributed and the recruits instructed to load their pieces and stand at "ready". Then the sergeant gave the command: "Fire at will!"

Private Lunn looked puzzled. He lowered his gun. "Which one is Will?" he asked.

A TELLING STROKE

The hare easily caught up with the tortoise. "Well, old man, you're not much of a runner, are you?" he sneered.

"No", admitted the tortoise, "I'm not. I think I'll try for the crew. You see, I'm quite at home in a shell."

Mr. Collins: What is the most potent poison?
Reid: An airplane; one drop and you're dead.
